

Mission Statement: The Share Food Program is a high-impact nonprofit organization dedicated to reducing hunger, and increasing access to healthy, affordable food.

- Last year Share brought 27 million pounds of emergency food to 505 local food cupboards, helping 700,000 low-income Philadelphians each month.
- Share serves our region's most vulnerable citizens: 12% of food cupboard recipients are elderly and 36% are children. Share provides them with nourishing foods like peanut butter, oatmeal, tuna fish, fortified cereals and milk.
- Food poverty continues to increase, and Share is more essential than ever. Philadelphia remains the poorest of the nation's top 10 cities, and our programs help low-income individuals in suburban areas and throughout the region.

Share Food Program nourishes community and expands food access

Share works year-round to promote food justice and access

- The “Share package program” offers monthly food packages at below-retail prices. Standard packages offer fresh produce, meat, poultry, and eggs, and Share provides simple, healthy recipes. We recently developed special food packages for individuals with kidney disease, diabetes and immune deficiencies.
- Share’s on-site “Nice Roots Farm” grew 15,000 lbs. of healthy produce last year. Our mobile farm stand offers low-cost produce to more than 50 schools and senior centers in neighborhoods with limited access to healthy, affordable food.
- The Commodity Supplemental Food Program serves 6,000 low-income seniors in the region, with monthly 30 lb. packages of nutritious food.
- Share is a strong voice for food justice: Executive Director Steveanna Wynn chairs the PA Dept of Agriculture’s State Advisory Committee, and serves on the Boards of Hunger Free Pennsylvania and Mayor’s Food Policy Action Committee.
- Share builds a strong community response to hunger, with volunteers from schools, workplaces and faith-based groups, along with individuals and families. They provide hands-on help in our bustling food distribution warehouse and Nice Roots Farm. Sign up online at sharefoodprogram.org/volunteer.
